ABOUT TOUCHSTONE

Touchstone is a Christian journal, conservative in doctrine and eclectic in content, with editors and readers from each of the three great divisions of Christendom—Protestant, Catholic, and Orthodox. The mission of the journal and its publisher, THE FELLOWSHIP OF ST. JAMES, is to provide a place where Christians of various backgrounds can speak with one another on the basis of shared belief in the fundamental doctrines of the faith as revealed in Holy Scripture and summarized in the ancient creeds of the Church.

The screenshot shows the Touchstone website homepage. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for Magazine, About, Subscribe/Support, Podcast, Devotional Guide, Search, and Reader Login. Below the navigation bar is a large black banner with the text "Your Ad Here". Underneath the banner is the Touchstone logo and the subtitle "A Journal of Mere Christianity". The main content area features a featured article titled "To Spread His Glory" by Donald T. Williams, with a sub-headline "Four Theses on Christian Education". The article is accompanied by a painting of three men. Below the article, there are sections for "FEATURED TODAY" and "EDITOR'S PICKS". On the right side, there is a "GET TOUCHSTONE" section with information about online archives and subscription rates.
